

Advisory for Limiting Personal Information in Transcripts

The federal rules of procedure restrict the publication of certain personal data in documents filed with the court. The rules require limiting Social Security, taxpayer identification, and financial account numbers to the last four digits, using only initials for the names of minor children, and limiting dates of birth to the year. [For criminal cases, also limit home addresses to city and state.] However, if such information is elicited during testimony or other court proceedings, it will become available to the public when the official transcript is filed at the courthouse unless, and until, it is redacted. The better practice is for you to avoid introducing this information into the record in the first place. Please take this into account when questioning witnesses or making other statements in court.
